The case developed from the death on April 18, 1916, of Geo. O. Brown of Weymouth. The plaintiff prior to March 3, 1916, resided in Litchfield. Upon the death of Fidelia Brown, Geo. Brown's sister, he, Geo. Brown, entered into a verbal agreement with plaintiff whereby the latter was to move on to the Brown farm, operate it and take care of Brown until the latter's death, when the property was to revert to plaintiff as compensation. Brown only lived about a month and neglected to execute papers of the contract with Williams. Brown left an estate amounting to $30,000, of which F. O. Phillips of Medina is executor. By the court's decree plaintiff receives the remainder of the estate after all debts are paid. Ford, Snyder & Tilden of Cleveland and Frank Heath of Medina, counsel for plaintiff; H. J. Thrasher of Chardon, C. D. Wightman, F. W. Woods and Frank Spellman of Medina and Henderson, Quail, Sidell, Morgan and Brown, of Cleveland, counsel for defendant.

Fish, Meat or Fowl

At this Thanksgiving time, and time of Food Conservation for the Nation.

The Savory, Self Basting and Self Browning Roaster, is one of the Indispensable Weapons of the Housewife, in her war on waste, both from a Patriotic and Pocket-Book standpoint.

There is no time wasted in basting or turning. No meat wasted in over-browning or scorching, and best of all, practically no shrinkage. Try one at our risk, if it does not do all that we claim for it.
